AMCone: An AFT Energized Healing Massage Tool made of 100% copper, filled with healing crystals and energized with our AMized Fusion Quantum Resonance Technology.

COPPER

Ancient cultures recognized copper as a healing mineral. Recent research shows copper has impressive antibacterial, antiviral and anti-fungal properties and found useful for its healing powers both internally and externally. It is still used in the treatment of wounds and skin diseases, as well as internal diseases such as anaemia, cancer, rheumatoid arthritis, and heart disease. It is also valued for its healing properties in improving circulation of blood, increasing energy and detoxification of the body. Copper is considered a mineral to increase energy and mental agility.

CRYSTALS

Crystals have subtle influences on the physical body. Cells of the human body are composed of the same atomic components as unit cells of a crystal but in an unstable pattern/state. When a crystal is placed on a specific affected area of the body, that crystal will attract other matter s sharing similar vibrational qualities, and, in doing so stimulating the affected area. Proponents of this technique believe that crystals act as conduits for healing — allowing positive, healing energy to flow into the body while negative, disease-causing energy flows out.

AMCON is an Active healing massage tool that is made of pure copper which is filled with healing crystals. In making AMCON, the copper and the crystals are then energized with the AMized Fusion Quantum resonance technology (AFT)TM. The technology ensures that deep energy cleansing, balancing, and healing occurs in the body. It acts as an excellent easy to use massage tool for both hot and cold therapy for self-therapy or professional use.

This innovatory product is designed to offer healing massage therapies to help combat the daily aches, fatigues, pain, and stress. Since the tool is made by applying the principle of ancient TCM, it is a significant and reliable product that will give the perfect body therapy. This tools does not only ease the pain of pressure massage which drains the energy of the masseur, but also it's infused natural crystals embedded with AFT Quantum resonance work in deep energy cleansing, balancing and healing.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

The natural crystals offer positive impacts on the physical body. This is because; the human body cells have similar atomic components like the unit cells of a natural crystal; even though the human body cells are in an unstable version. Therefore, when the natural crystals are put in any particular area of the body, the crystals work by attracting the matter that has similar vibrational qualities as they do. In doing so, the crystals stimulate the target areas of the body hence releasing its healing properties. Medical experts also explain that this massage healing technique is effective as the copper and crystals are excellent healing conductors; they allow the flow of positive healing energy to the body parts that suffer pains and aches and release the disease-causing energy out.

AMIZED FUSION TECHNOLOGY?

AMized Fusion Technology™ (AFT) is a unique proprietary quantum technology that ENERGIZES products to resonate at Zero Point Field.

AMized Fusion Technology® encompasses a unique process where the resonance structure of atoms is altered. The changes are imparted at the level of sub atomic particles: electrons, protons etc. The process mimics the mechanics of nature. In an ideal universe, these sub-atomic structures will undergo a certain routine to exhibit spin configurations, wave properties, charge density within a defined range.

These resonances from the AFT Energized products can trigger off a series of quantum events and therefore induce several changes related to consciousness at a micro as well as the macro level within a living system resulting in a healing effect.

HOW TO USE?

AMcone is an easy to use tool as for hot & cold self-therapy or for professional use. Simply press the top (rounded edge) at a point or an area and massage in a circular motion for several seconds. For overall results press and glide over the meridian points, lines and or lymphatic lines.
